Multi-Currency Account Solution

Part of Monex's extensive suite of digital products, designed to serve both corporate and institutional clients, our Multi-Currency Account Solution offer a smart alternative for managing multiple currencies within your Monex Europa account.

What is a Multi-Currency Account?

Great for managing multiple currencies with ease, all within your one Monex Europa account

Manage multiple currencies

With this feature, you can receive multiple currency flows into a single IBAN held in the name of your company. This means that you can manage funds in different currencies within designated wallets without needing separate accounts for each currency, as you would with a traditional bank.

Expedite the allocation of funds

One of the main advantages of using a Multi-Currency Account is the elimination of issues that can arise with standard-currency bank accounts, such as funds being remitted to the wrong account. With this feature, real-time data for account activity is also readily available, which can be incredibly useful for reconciliation and managing your company's cash flow.

Streamline fund management

Ultimately, the Multi-Currency Account streamlines the process of managing and receiving funds, enabling you to receive payments in up to 23 different currencies and make payments in up to 70 currencies from a single account. This simplifies international transactions and removes the need for multiple bank accounts or a local presence.

What are the key benefits?

01 Multi-currency collection account with up to 23 different currencies

02 Receive, send, and hold/convert money in multiple currencies on the same platform

03 Integrate your back office with Monex Pay using APIs for automated processing

04 Reduce the risks associated with foreign exchange

05 Monitor your account and access live account data

06 Monex Europa's systems are fully secure and regulated by the Bank of Spain, complying with the highest protection standards.

07 An IBAN is held in the company's name

08 System governance is transparent, giving authorised supervisors complete control of user access
